Reeler Plays To Tighten Up On Abuse List

Long Line of Resolutions To Cover Bus-Truck Regulation

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—Extension of the present unemployment relief service along one or two lines, dictated by humanitarian considerations and at the same time tightening up to eliminate abuses and effect possible economies may result from the conference of Dominion and Provincial Governments which opened here last night. A long list of resolutions adopted by the conference covers relief administration, bus and truck regulation, company law and taxation.

Marked achievement was made in the three-day party. Unanimous resolutions were passed on the subjects which both Dominion and Provincial delegates alike said would bring far-reaching beneficial results. On relative justice there was insurance company and social and unemployment insurance were there no resolutions.

On these subjects, Quebec and Ontario were not inclined to give the necessary degree of authority desired. Most of the provinces have Dominion authority.

MEDICAL ATTENTION. Medical attention for persons receiving direct relief was one of the humanitarian aspects of relief considered. The conference decided a medical authority under the medical attention should be made legitimate as a part of the relief service.

The problem of the youth leaving school and finding jobs without work was also given consideration. No measure was being with this problem was settled but the conference recommended that the Dominion director of relief should take it up with the proper authorities with a view to evolving new means of aiding young men of this class.

With a view to the prevention of disease a committee of the conference considered appointment of additional investigators but decided it would be justified only on the grounds of sound administration and economy.

TO DAYTON HOSTS. If such investigators were appointed the cost should be divided between the Dominion and the provinces. It was also decided that the Dominion should confer and draw up a uniform set of regulations governing Dominion and Provincial relief throughout Canada. Assistance to be rendered from the Dominion government in relief should continue as at present.

On the part of the provinces, it was stated, felt the Dominion should take up the matter with the others were of the opinion no increase in the contribution was required.

Definite action was taken in the direction of providing Canada with uniform company laws designed to protect the public. It was decided the Prime Minister of Canada should call a conference of Dominion law officers at an early date for the purpose of making a new set of laws to be introduced in parliament and for the Dominion legislation.

BUS AND TRUCK. Initial steps were taken towards regulation of bus and truck services. The Dominion Minister of Railways was requested to submit a report on the subject of the matter. When information was collected a conference of Dominion officials should be called to consider the whole situation.

No definite action was taken in the direction of taxation. The conference recommends an exchange of information and consultation between the Dominion and the provinces and a meeting later on the matter. For the purpose of co-operation and a reallocation of tax income between the Dominion and the provinces.

The conference adopted the following report on the subject of present unemployment and relief conditions:

- 1.—That Federal assistance to the provinces in the discharge of their constitutional obligations should be continued on the basis of the present rate of contribution, and present unprecedented economic conditions by distribution of direct relief.
- 2.—Attention is directed, however, to the fact that the Dominion Government is not to be considered by the federal government.

Limitation of Financial Responsibility. While some provinces desire an increase in the proportion of contribution by the Dominion, other provinces do not feel that an increase in the Dominion contribution is warranted.

Medical Services. In the opinion of the committee a medical authority for persons receiving direct relief should be made legitimate as a part of the relief service.

Protest Plan Against More Two Railway Lines

City Asked to Make Representations to Secure Jobs for Railwaymen

Protesting any plan to eliminate the C.N.R. and the C.P.R. to operate them under one central board, and also urging upon aldermen and city officials the crying need of making representations to government authorities with a view to securing employment for railway men now out of work. K. J. Thompson, union official, spoke at the regular meeting of the civic by-laws committee Thursday afternoon. This question was tabled for future consideration after reports.

Mr. Thompson made representations on behalf of the Edmonton Joint committee of railway trade-unions, including the running trades and cutters, and the local trades.

Presenting the plight of the railway men, he said that both railways would employ 20,000 workers. If the roads were amalgamated, this would mean a slash of between 30 and 40 per cent. in the number of these employees.

Further, it was estimated that about 5,000 miles of track would be eliminated if the railways were amalgamated. This would mean the loss of 10,000 jobs.

Through their misdirected action, he said, the railways were destroying wealth instead of creating it. Mr. Thompson said that the railways were not only a source of employment but also a source of revenue for the city.

Huge Salary Losses Suffered by Railway Workers

By the action of the C.N.R. practically all the heavy "boomers" were being shipped to the Winnipeg and Regina shops. This had resulted in the Port Arthur and other shops in the Winnipeg area being closed. The result was a large number of men were being laid off and the loss of 10,000 jobs.

PROTECT BOTH

Delegates at the U.F.A. convention in Calgary said that legislation to protect home and farm owners in possession of their property would be preferable to a general moratorium.

They stipulated that the farmer, living expenses, operating costs and land taxes should be paid prior to the proceeds of his crop, debts coming in second place.

The legislation should also stipulate that the living expenses, operating costs and taxes should be paid prior to the wages, salary or business profits of the non-farmers, and that the farmer, coming after these charges have been met.

It is important to all parties concerned that the farmer be kept in possession of his land and enabled to cultivate the land, and that the non-farmers be kept in possession of their homes, enabled to support their families with what they earn, and thus be kept out of the relief lines.

AS TO REPRESENTATION

Attorney General Lymburn told the U.F.A. convention at Calgary there is no reason why Alberta should not have a class government as long as the people elect the members of the legislature. To support the point he said he finds "no difficulty" in representing agriculture and labor in the convention of Edmonton.

The illustration is a little weak. Agriculture is not an extensive occupation in Edmonton, and the Attorney General's statement is not entirely correct.
He represents neither the one nor the other in the positive way a class representative would be expected to.

Mr. Lymburn was elected by Edmonton taxpayers, drawn from all classes, who hoped they might get more merciful treatment from the Government if they were elected with an Attorney General in its line of need.

It does not yet appear that the hopes of the taxpayers were well founded. The Government still collects the amusement tax and keeps it, collects the gasoline tax and keeps it, collects the liquor profits and keeps it, and the Edmonton member of the cabinet has a bad lot so far as concerns the claims of the city that it should get some of this revenue.

JAPAN AND THE LEAGUE

The committee of the League of Nations has decided that it will make one more attempt to conciliate in the "Oriental" dispute.
It is to proceed regardless of Japanese opposition.

That sounds ominous. A statement made in such a way by one of the committee members would be considered as an ultimatum, to be followed by a declaration of war if not obeyed.

It is not much more than that. The League has no army or navy with which to back up the threat. If it called upon the member-nations to discipline Japan with their military forces, they would resign if they would resist, and let the League collapse.

Japan understands this quite well. That it will be frightened into submission by the pompous language of the impotent League there is not the slightest likelihood. Should the League "advance to freedom" of any positive kind within its power, Japan will resign, and proceed serenely with its conquest of China.

The western world may as well recognize that Japan considers itself invulnerable, and that, in finance, politics, and military power, it needs to re-make the Orient to suit its plans, and believes firmly it has the power to do so. The technical skill of the Japanese is sufficient to carry out the program.

About all the League can do is register the international judgment of the other member-nations and the neutral nations that Japan is in the wrong. It may as well do that without any more ceremony, and let Japan resign if it wants to. If the League is to stand it will have to stand for something.

$70,000,000 LOST

The department of trade and commerce at Ottawa reports up to Dec. 29, 1932, $70,000,000 bushels of wheat had been delivered to elevators in western Canada or shipped over landing platforms.

The great bulk of this wheat has been sold by the growers. It was announced toward the end of the month that only about 10 per cent of the wheat in elevators was still in the growers' possession. Something more than 250,000,000 bushels have been sold by this date.

The last official report sent out by the same department announced that farmers in Australia were being paid 25 cents a bushel for wheat in country stations. At the same time farmers were being offered at Edmonton 20 cents per bushel, for better wheat than Australia ever grew. The spread in the price of the Australian grower was 25 cents per bushel.

That loss of 25 cents per bushel represents the loss the western wheat grower has been made to take up to date, in order that Canada might remain nominally on the gold standard and keep its dollar out of line with the money in which overseas buyers pay for wheat.

If the Canadian grower been allowed to get what the Australian grower has been getting, $70,000,000 more would have gone into his pockets in payment for the volume of wheat he has been far sold. He has been cheated out of this money, not by anything the foreign buyer has done, but by the action—or inaction—of his own government.
The $70,000,000 would not have stayed in the farmer's pocket very long. They would have gone to pay more bills that have not been paid, interest on loans that has not been paid, maintenance on machinery that have not been paid, municipal and provincial taxes that have not been paid, and to buy goods that have not been paid for.

The amount of what money circulating in Canada this winter would have been approximately doubled had our Government deflated the dollar as everything else has been deflated. What that would mean in the speeding up of business and the maintenance of decent standards of living no one needs to be told; no one, at least, outside our goldinfatuated circle.

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

At a recent meeting of the South Brandon Farmers' Institute, William, Hull read a paper on the "Bum" in which he argued that a bum was not, as generally supposed, the result of a fume. He says must needs to be undeveloped grain or the result of unbalanced grain.

There are few readers of the newspaper today who have not seen it announced as an axiom that every able bodied adult male immigrant was worth $1,000 to the country to which he came. The basis of the calculation was that the labor and consuming power of an able bodied man was worth to the country in which he lived and worked the cost of bringing him out from infancy to manhood, which was roughly estimated at $1,000, which cost the country of his birth had borne and which the cost of his adjusting cost to the new country. This very brilliant idea—no doubt—originated in the fertile brain of some great eagle orator south of the line and scarcely needs to be seriously discussed to be shown to be utterly fallacious. A Chicago university professor in a recent address stated "Immigrants who have little more in common with the people in the United States than the human shape and the most general features of human nature. Thrown in solid blocks of hundreds and thousands into the country, coming with the set purpose to form and newly adjusted to the new country, they are, for the only unable, but unwilling, to be assimilated politically, or socially, intellectually or morally—that is a danger calculated to every reflective patriot blood."

Poems That Live

"WHITHER IS GONE THE WISDOM AND THE POWER"

Whither is gone the wisdom and the power
That ancient sages uttered with the notes
Of thought-suggesting truth? The music floats
In the void air, 'ere it can be breathed in,
In every cell, or every blooming bough.
The sweetness of old days is hovering still,
The music of the stringed and the wind-
The ruffled rook which bears the winsome flower.

It is never withered. Were we like the lily
That sweetly nectar in the foam glaze lies,
Or lurk and moulder in the rose-lipped shells
Which Neptune to the earth for gift-quest gave.

Then might our pretty madonna Philomela
Sustain our hearts with her tongue-legend.
—Hartley Coleridge (1794-1860)

THEY will think that for a clever people they were awfully stupid.

Perhaps they will look up our dictionaries of today. They will read that definition of "money" in the Encyclopaedia Britannica: "A store of reserved credit" to see what magic we imagined in gold. They will learn that we had Dominion bills, printed on specially prepared paper, containing but one word: "money." They will read of the gold pieces of paper which they used as ready of how helpless we were to exchange wheat, machinery, books and leisure, and of how people lost homes and farms and courage, because there wasn't enough of the yellow metal to make money with—while all the time we had a dozen other and better metals to use as emblems of the national credit.

Your Children

By OLIVE ROBINS BARTON

A young mother with a baby a year and a half old asked me recently about socks.

She had been to Alabama where in her community, at least, there was a prevailing custom of hardening children by allowing them to go out without any stockings or socks at all.

"On chilly days when they had to wear overcoats," she told me, "they would be out without any kind of leg covering and sometimes in their bare feet."

What I write here will be in a general way my answer to all that.

"You can do things in the south you cannot do in the north, and you can do things in the west that would not be wise in the east. High land climate also differs from coastal climate or that of any low country. Conditions in cities are different from those in the country."

"Take all these matters in review and you can easily see that no one rule of dressing can possibly be applied to all children."

CLIMATE CHANGES

"The most difficult climate of all to contend with is the baby's also one, where one has beautiful warm sunny spring weather one day, to be followed a few hours by a drop of from thirty to sixty degrees to a zero temperature, or below, with snow, wind and a regular Pasadena's box of trouble."

"Such changes frequently have those dreaded in-between days, with damp air, lowering skies, low barometric conditions that hold the

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

The Hollywood film magnates have discovered another new little secret that they now are growing more and more interested in.

It is about the legs of young women.

After you have seen on a bulletin it is difficult to loosen the thread on the bottom in the top of the button before you begin to sew it on. Sew over the pin, and remove it before you begin to sew it on. The pin will make it just loose enough.

The Housewife's Idea Box

After you have seen on a bulletin it is difficult to loosen the thread on the bottom in the top of the button before you begin to sew it on. Sew over the pin, and remove it before you begin to sew it on. The pin will make it just loose enough.

Partly worn Turkish towels and washcloths make good hives for baby. Cut good pieces in semi-circles, and bind with blue tape.

Red River Jigs Dynamite Night Of Great Merriment

Hindu Rites Are Used At Wedding

Visitors From All Over Province Attend Historic Blow-Out

Red River jigs, totem totem dances from Indian reserves and fiddle tunes, such as, "Inglorious Blues," "The Old River Mare" and "The Chicken Reel" climaxed a night of merriment and jolly stag as the annual round-up banquet and dance of the Northern Alberta Federation and Old Times Association held at the Macdonald Hotel on Thursday evening.

It was an eventful and memorable night: a night such as can be put on only by Old Times men. Fully 500 hardheaded, strident veterans of this and other western provinces gathered round the festive board to live again, in conversation and in memory, the days that are gone forever, days in which they carved out the destiny of Alberta, which is rich agricultural production today stands in the premier position in the world.

Farmilo And Adair Debate Unemployment Insurance Question

Merits and Demerits of Unemployment Insurance Argued

Merits and demerits of unemployment insurance were argued pro and con by Alfred Farmilo, secretary of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, taking the affirmative side of the debate, and Joseph W. Adair, the negative, at a general meeting of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce in the Macdonald hotel at the noon hour Friday.

President Frank Turley occupied the chair and introduced the speakers to the meeting.

Mr. Adair, first speaker, said that one obstacle which stood in the way of an unemployment insurance bill was the fact that many expatriated Canadians living in the United States would not contribute to this country to take advantage of the benefits offered there through such a law of insurance.

He averred that the present situation was not a problem of unemployment insurance but of the hours of labor. He averred that the present situation was not a problem of unemployment insurance but of the hours of labor. # REGAIN LEAD BY WIN OVER CANUCKS, 2-1

English Soccer League Returns To Regular Schedule

Bill Lewis

Talk everywhere in our sport-lands yesterday was about the return of the English Soccer League to its regular schedule. It caused much speculation that not only one single hockey game in the country, but the whole of the English Soccer League, would be able to get on its feet. Some fans are all for it, while others question it. It is a good idea, but it is a long way from being a reality. The English Soccer League is a long way from being a reality. The English Soccer League is a long way from being a reality.

REGAIN LEAD BY WIN OVER CANUCKS, 2-1

Penalties Pave Way For All of Scoring in Second Period

The Eaks are a permanent institution in Edmonton as the Owner-Manager Duke Keats in Vancouver Local fans have shown their appreciation of the brand of hockey provided this season and the Duke, like McKenna, believes that the day of the return of the league hockey to the west again is not far distant. And Edmonton fans will be seeing it.

By those who have studied the situation closely and considered the possibilities of next year, it is thought that McKenna is making a good move in going to Vancouver. He will be able to get himself and his team established there and ready to go for next winter. He believes, too, that the support he will get in the city will enable him to finish on the right side of the ledger this winter.

The proposed league of Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Seattle and other Portland or Tacoma area teams is made up of cities all capable of turning out crowds large enough to support the best hockey. And the whole of the sport will be improved thereby.

But, in the meantime, all the teams have a tough race in the present Western Canada circuit on the ice. There is a lot of making of a great stretch drive, with the possibility of a lot of them finishing in or out of the playoffs. That's what makes the race so interesting to the fans.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—New York Rangers regained the top of the American division of the National Hockey League last night, passing the idle Detroit Red Wings and the defeated Boston Bruins as they bested the Canadiens of Montreal 2-1 in fast and furious combat.

Penalties, which were handed out freely in the rough game, paved the way for all the scoring, which was confined to the second period.

RANGERS SCORE FAST

Rangers snipped in two quick goals in the first period, but were short-handed in the middle of the period when Solvie Manita had received a major penalty for hooking Earl Dillion to pave a goal.

A forward pass from Frank Bruni to Bun Cook with a short shot about the end brought the first tally. Then Aurel Jozsi, who had been in the net for the first two goals, scored the second goal.

The players were told they were "not at all sure" of their future. "We don't know a thing more than you do," was the statement from George Puile, Art Townsend, Sammy McKenna, Art Patterson and Herbie Rhesman when questioned.

E. L. Richardson, of Calgary, president of the league, interviewed by long distance phone in Winnipeg, knew little about the matter.
